

Workshop on “Orientation of CSOs and CBOs on the role of local institutions especially PRI bodies in the System Change approach” on 21st and 22nd of April 2022 at HRDC, Ranchi

PRADAN conducted a two day’s orientation workshop of CSOs and CBOs on the role of local institutions especially the PRI bodies and the CBOs in addressing the developmental challenges through a System Change Approach. The main objective of this workshop was to enhance the knowledge and understanding of the people on the concept of System Change and the role of different stakeholders to come up with a winning coalition to attain the objective.

With the increased allocation of resources in the Finance commission and MGNREGS the role of PRI bodies is becoming more and more important. At the same time pan state presence of SHG collectives also making their roles in the local development critical. However, because of the lack of understanding of the roles and responsibility, not having a long-term understanding makes the efforts of these institutions limited and unsustainable.

Now to make this happen role of CSOs will be very crucial in shaping an effective relationship between PRI and CBOs and thus orchestrating a local level initiative to create a long-term sustainable approach.

The workshop was very interactive and participatory. Member’s interest in the subject was visible and the workshop was very fruitful as the concept was very new to them. This was indeed a very enriching workshop for all the participants as it gave a real insight of ground reality and how each district are different from each other and how can one contribute in this whole endeavour.
